André Garvin | Account Manager | Investnet MoneyGuide

André brings a wealth of knowledge to Investnet MoneyGuide, the creator of MoneyGuideOne, MoneyGuidePro®, and MoneyGuideElite and MyBlocks. As an Account Manager, he works closely with advisors and executive management to demonstrate how combining the latest technology with their own expertise can help maximize their client relationships.

André graduated from Virginia State University in December of 2012 with a B.A. in Business Management and started his career in banking with BB&T shortly after. Moving further into the financial services field, he became a financial advisor with a boutique firm in Manhattan before starting his own practice at AXA Advisors. With over 5 years of experience, André works to ensure that financial professionals have the ability to provide quality financial plans for all their clients.
